

GUIDE TO ARMS FAMILY PAPERS

Scope and Content Note

The Arms Family Papers have been received by the Pocumtuck Valley Memorial Association from many sources over many years. They number approximately 2,350 items and date from 1736 to about 1936. Certain materials relating to the family, and not included in the item count, are of considerably later date.

The papers are those of seven generations descended from William Arms through his sons John, Daniel and William. William Arms (ca. 1654-1731) first came to Deerfield about 1698, moved to Sunderland in 1713, and returned to settle in Deerfield on the "Arms Corner" about 1717. The names of those members of the family who are represented by papers are in bold print. The number that follows many names in the notes below, refers to the number assigned to that individual by George Sheldon in the genealogical notes on the Arms family that are included in the second volume of his History of Deerfield (1895). Many of the following biographical notes were taken from the same source.

Biographical Notes and Description of Papers

John Arms² (1679-1753) was the eldest son of William¹, founder of the family in Deerfield. He saw service in the Indian wars and was crippled from wounds received in an attack near Deerfield in 1709. He and his wife, Hannah (Nash) Arms of Hatfield, Mass., had two daughters and a son.

John is represented by one paper, a plat of his property in Deerfield, surveyed by Elijah Williams in 1736.

John Arms⁵, son of John², was born in 1722. He settled in Brattleboro, Vt., where he served as its first postmaster and later as sheriff. He kept a famous tavern there, to which Ethan Allen and the Green Mountain Boys came. He and his wife, the former Susannah Willard, had three children. John died in 1770.

His papers consist of a deed to land in Deerfield; an account with Sawyer Wright; and a conveyance of John's heirs and other property holders in Deerfield.

Josiah Arms¹⁶, son of John⁵, continued to keep the tavern in Brattleboro, Vt., left by his father. He was born in 1750 and died in 1803.

There are two sets of his papers in the collection: an account of money owed by his father's estate to the John Russell estate; and a deed to land he sold to Samuel Smead of Shelburne, Mass.

William Arms⁴¹, born in 1790, was one of the youngest of fourteen children of Josiah¹⁶. He settled in Dummerston, Vt., where he died in 1876.

He is represented by one paper, a letter he received in 1832 from two brothers, P.H. and Daniel Knowlton.

Daniel Arms³, born in 1687, was a son of William¹. He lived on the old homestead, which his father had established on the “Arms Corner”, and he died there in 1753. His first wife, Esther (Smead) Arms, was the mother of all of his eleven children. His second wife, Mary (Hitchcock) Taylor Arms, outlived him and later married Ebenezer Barnard.

The collection includes a letter Daniel wrote to his brother-in-law, Azariah Wright of Northfield, Mass., in 1745; and a deed to land Daniel’s widow, Mary, purchased in 1754 from John Taylor, a son by her first marriage.

Ebenezer Arms¹⁹, a grandson of Daniel³ was born in 1760. He became a resident of Greenfield, Mass., and died there in 1812. His wife, whom he married in 1785, was Mercy, daughter of Salmon White of Whately, Mass.

He is represented by one paper, an agreement of 1811 with John Anderson of Shelburne.

Daniel Arms⁶, son of Daniel³, was born in 1719 and lived on the old homestead in Deerfield. He married Mary, the daughter of John Stebbins, in 1743; they had eight children, one of whom is mentioned below. Daniel died in 1784; his widow in 1798.

He is also represented by only one paper, a promissory note dated 1774. The papers of his descendants, however, make up almost half of the collection of Arms Family Papers.

Aaron Arms¹⁷, son of Daniel⁶, was born in 1749 and, like his father, lived on the old homestead. In 1775, he married Lucy, daughter of Christopher Tyler of Boston, and the couple had eleven children, a number of whom are mention below. Aaron died in 1806, his widow in 1810.

His papers date from 1771 to 1810. The seven papers dated before 1804 consist of a deed, promissory notes, a complaint by Aaron against five men for breaking into his property, and a letter (1803) from his sister and brother-in-law, Esther and Elijah Wilder. The remainder consists of a copy of his will (1806) and papers relating to the settlement of his estate.

These are followed, in a separate folder, by papers of his widow, Lucy Arms, 1862 and 1827 – probate documents, receipts and an inventory, relating to her estate.

Sophia Arms, daughter of Aaron¹⁷ and Lucy, was born in 1793 and died, unmarried, in 1857.

The collection includes one of her papers, a letter of October 13, 1813, which she received from Fanny Hoyt.

Aaron Arms⁴⁴, son of Aaron¹⁷ and Lucy, was born in 1789. After his graduation from Yale in 1813, he was a preceptor in Deerfield Academy (1813-1825) and a lawyer. His first wife, Sophia (Holland) Arms of Belchertown, Mass., lived less than a year after their marriage in 1821. His second wife, Eliza Hapgood of Petersham, Mass., was the mother of their son and two daughters. His papers consist of letters from his brothers Daniel and Christopher Tyler; and a letter he wrote to Park Holland of Bangor, Maine.

Ralph Arms⁴⁵, son of Aaron¹⁷ and Lucy, was born in 1791. He settled on a part of the old homestead. He and his wife, the former Caroline Bardwell, had eight children, several of whom settled in Bellows Falls, Vt. Ralph died in 1851, his widow in 1855.

His papers consist of a judgment he obtained against Charles Newcomb, a paper relating to the appraisal of his estate, and a description of land set off to satisfy execution of all fees pertaining to his estate.

Christopher Tyler Arms⁴³, son of Aaron¹⁷ and Lucy, was born in 1781. He was a surveyor and farmer, who settled on the old homestead for a time. He left for Canada in 1829, but returned in 1833 and died in Deerfield in 1854. His wife was Avice Stebbins, a daughter of Colonel Joseph Stebbins. They had eleven children, several of whom are mentioned below.

There are more than fifty of Christopher's papers in the collection. They date between 1801 and 1855. Many of the earliest items relate to the settlement of the estate of Joseph Stebbins, his father-in-law. Others are letters he received from various family members: his brothers Daniel and Aaron; his brothers-in-law Thomas Saxton, Theodore Barnard, and Joseph Barnard; his sons, Christopher Tyler, Jr., George Albert, and Richard Catlin; his daughter Melissa; and nephew Samuel Clesson. There are also surveys and accounts of his explorations in Maine.

The papers of his wife, Avice, are in a separate folder. They consist of letters she received, 1811-1850, from her husband, her sisters Mehitable and Aurelia, her daughters Melissa and Avice, sons Richard and George, and niece Aurelia.

George Albert Arms⁷⁰, son of Christopher Tyler⁴³ and Avice, was born in 1815. He went to Canada with his father in 1829, returned five years later and worked at various jobs in Boston, Northfield, Mass., Bellows Falls, Vt., Ohio (where he operated a coal mine) and finally in nearby Greenfield, where he acquired extensive real estate holdings. His first wife, and the mother of his three children, was Eunice Stratton, daughter of Isaiah Moody of Northfield.

There are only two of his papers in the collection: a letter from his mother and sister Julia and an undated invitation to a ball in Frary House.

Avice S. Arms, daughter of Christopher Tyler⁴³ and Avice, was born in 1816 and became a resident of Greenfield, Mass.

The collection includes more than twenty of her papers – letters received from her brother Richard, niece Eleanor, and nephews Herbert and Winthrop, between about 1834 and 1899.

Richard Catlin Arms⁷¹, another son of Christopher Tyler⁴³ and Avice, was born in 1818. A civil engineer, he was engaged in locating railroads from 1837 to 1850, and later was a contractor for bridges. He and his wife, Ellen (Root) Arms of Greenfield, had three children, all of whom are mentioned below. Richard died in 1908, and, after his death, his widow lived with their son Herbert and his wife (the former Alice Joy) in Grand Junction, Colorado.

His papers consist of a number of account books, survey books, field notes, and letters received mainly from his brother George, his sister Avice, and his daughter Eleanor, between 1835 and 1901.

The papers of his wife, Ellen, in separate folders, consist almost entirely of letters from her daughter Eleanor.

Winthrop Tyler Arms, the eldest son of Richard C.⁷¹ and Ellen, was born in 1861. He worked for paper companies in Holyoke, Mass., for a time but was not successful in business. He later turned to farming in Deerfield. His wife, Jane (Chapin) Arms, died in 1904, leaving seven young children, the youngest, William, an infant.

Most of his almost 900 papers in the collection consist of letters he received between 1882 and 1923 from his wife, his children, his parents, his sister and brother, and other relatives. These are accompanied by a file of general correspondence in regard to business matters, a folder of bills and receipts, and a small group on miscellaneous items.

In separate folders are the papers of his wife, Jane Chapin Arms, which consist of letters she received from her husband, her mother, and others between 1880 and 1904; letters received by the children of Winthrop and Jane from 1893 to 1934; and papers of his mother-in-law (Elizabeth H. Chapin) and her daughter Adelaide between 1891 and 1913.

Jane Arms Kelly (“Jimmie”), the youngest daughter of Winthrop T. Arms and Jane Chapin, was born around 1901. She was only 3 years old when her mother died.

She is represented in the collection with correspondence with various people, including her brother William (Billie), and his wife Masha; along with correspondence regarding the Putney School. Published writings and poems of Jane are also included, as well as documents relating to the estate of her brother William.

Eleanor Maria Arms (“Nelly”), the only daughter of Richard C.⁷¹ and Ellen, was born in 1864 and lived until about 1937. For a time she and her brother Herbert headed the Arms School in Nyack, N.Y. She later taught at the Rogers School in Lowell, Mass. She lived in Deerfield, caring for the children of her brother Winthrop for most of the time after the death of his wife in 1904. During those years she was active in producing rugs, baskets, and other craft items.

There is a long, almost unbroken series of her diaries that date from 1888 to 1933. The contents of twelve of these introspective manuscripts (between 1888 and 1924) are described in Robert J. Wilson’s guide to various diaries in the P.V.M.A. collection. Her papers also include notebooks that contain rough drafts of her fictional writings; letters she received between 1878 and 1936; several account books; miscellaneous items concerned with her teaching in Nyack, NY, and Lowell, Mass.

Phineas Arms²⁶, son of William¹⁰, was born in 1759. He was a resident of “Turnip Yard,” a section about three miles southeast of The Street in Deerfield. He and his wife, the former Lydia Root of Montague, were married in 1780 and were the parents of 12 children, most of whom settled in places other than Deerfield. Phineas died in 1838.

He is represented by three documents: two judgments and a receipt.

William Arms²⁷, another son of William¹⁰, was born in 1769. He became a lawyer who practiced in Simsbury, Conn., Plainfield, N.H., and Painted Post, N.Y. He died in 1813; his widow, the former Mercy Snow of Goshen, Mass., in 1817.

There are five of his papers in the collection: receipts, a promissory note, and documents relating to a case of bastardy brought against him by the father of Mary Mitchell in 1789.

Elijah Arms¹¹, son of William⁴, was born in 1727. For a time he lived on lot 20 in the south of Deerfield. He later moved to the Mill River section of Deerfield, and died there in 1802. He and his first wife, Experience (Hawks) Arms, had four daughters and one son, mentioned below.

Elijah’s two papers consist of a letter he received from Lewis Lyman in 1787 and a copy of his will (1800).

Elijah Arms²⁸, son of Elijah¹¹ and Experience, was born in 1760. A resident of Mill River, he served as captain of the militia and a state representative for 11 years. He died in 1821.

The earliest of his three papers in the collection (c. 1802) is a quitclaim in connection with the settlement of his father's estate. The other two: a list of notes and a promissory note to the trustees of Amherst Academy.

Thomas Arms¹², son of William⁴, was born in 1799. He settled at Bloody Brook and died there in 1808. He and his wife, the former Lydia Alvord of Sunderland, Mass., had ten children. A number of their descendants are named below.

He is represented by eight papers, dated 1784-1802, all of which are legal documents.

Eliphas Arms²⁹, son of Thomas¹², was born at Bloody Brook in 1754. For four years (1789-93) he lived in Conway, Mass. He and his wife, Miriam (Wright) Arms, had nine children, four of whom are named below. Eliphas died in 1826, seven years after the death of his wife.

The collection contains only one of his papers, a summons on his behalf, dated 1801.

Erastus Arms⁵⁹, Dennis Arms⁶¹, and Josiah Arms⁶³, sons of Eliphas²⁹ and Miriam, and residents of Bloody Brook, are represented by five papers in all, consisting of judgments and deeds dated 1811-1834.

In a separate folder are one paper, each, of James Arms and Charles Arms, sons of Dennis⁶¹. The papers consist of deeds to land in South Deerfield, 1855 and 1859. Accompanying these is a legal paper (1826) of Lyman Arms, son of Harry⁶⁰, and a deed (1865) to which his widow, Diadama (Temple) Arms was a party.

Seth Arms³⁰, a son of Thomas¹², was born in 1757 at Bloody Brook (today S. Deerfield). He lived for a time in Bernardston, Mass.

Seven promissory notes and judgments against him, 1797-1821, are in the collection.

Thomas Arms, Jr.³¹, son of Thomas¹², was born at Boody Brook (today S. Deerfield) in 1759 and died in 1832.

His seven papers, like those of his brother Seth, consist of promissory notes and judgments against him, 1799-1809. In a separate folder is an assignment of mortgage (1836) of John Boyden Arms⁶⁴, son of Thomas³¹ and his second wife, Hannah (Boyden) Arms. Also a commonplace book of John's wife, Hannah (Childs) Arms.

Lemuel Arms³², son of Thomas¹², was born in 1769. There are nine of his papers in the collection, all legal documents: promissory notes, judgments, and a complaint issued against him.

Eliakim Arms³⁸, son of Eliakim¹⁵ and grandson of William⁴, was born in 1767 at Bloody Brook (today S. Deerfield), served as captain in the militia and died in 1823. He is represented by one paper, a division of landholdings in his estate (1828). In a separate folder is a legal document, dated 1823, of his son, Orramel Arms.

Jonathan Arms¹⁴, son of William⁴, was born in 1735. A blacksmith and trader, his house, shop, and store were on Lot 30 in Deerfield. He died there in 1819.

His papers include deeds, receipts, apprenticeship and guardianship agreements, a partnership agreement with Lewis Lyman (1795), and papers relating to the settlement of his estate. Associated with these, and bringing the total number to 50, is a description of dower lands set off to Eunice (Lyman) Arms, his second wife.

Jonathan Arms³⁴ and Stephen Arms, son and grandson of Jonathan¹⁴, and his first wife, Rebecca (Hinsdale) Arms, are represented by four papers, all legal documents, dated between 1791 and 1813. Jonathan was a blacksmith and captain of artillery, who settled in Charlestown, N.H., and later in Montpelier, Vt.

Pliny Arms³⁵, son of Jonathan¹⁴ and Eunice, was born in 1778, and graduated from Yale in 1842. He became a lawyer.

He is represented by just over 40 items, most of which are legal documents. Included, however, are an address he gave at Bloody Brook (today S. Deerfield), [1836-40?], and his manuscript history of Deerfield. The last two items were formerly identified as M-a 4438 and M-a 4439, respectively, in the P.V.M.A. collection.

George Arms³⁶, son of Jonathan¹⁴ and Eunice, is represented by one paper (1820), concerned with the settlement of his estate.

David Arms, a joiner of Sunderland, Mass., and probably a collateral relative of the Arms family of Deerfield, is represented by two papers: an action for trespass against him (1787) and an attachment against him for debt (1788).
