

Guide to George Sheldon Papers

PVMA Library

Scope and Content Note

The papers of George Sheldon, historian and antiquarian, consist of autobiographical and biographical writings, text of addresses he delivered, manuscripts of a few of his published writings, research notes, newspaper clippings of the serialized version of his A History of Deerfield, business papers, and an extensive correspondence which forms more than half of the collection. Sheldon's papers number approximately 4,000 items and date mainly from the last quarter of the 19th and first decade of the 20th centuries.

Biographical Note

George Sheldon was born in Deerfield on November 30, 1818, a member of the sixth generation from Ensign John Sheldon, who had accompanied early settlers to Deerfield in 1664. He was educated in the common schools of Deerfield and Deerfield Academy. His early life was passed on a farm.

In 1844 he married Susan Stearns, daughter of J. F. Stearns of Dummerston, Vermont. The couple had three children: Frank, who died in childhood, John, and Susan.

After suffering a sunstroke, Sheldon and his family moved in 1853 to Chicopee, Massachusetts, where he was employed for five years in the Dwight Cotton Mills. The time there also marked the beginning of his political activities. Sheldon, an ardent abolitionist, served as treasurer of the Chicopee auxiliary of the Kansas Free Soil movement, and gained state-wide prominence as secretary of the "Know-Nothing Party" in Chicopee.

In 1857 he returned to Deerfield and took an active part in town affairs, serving as justice of the peace from 1857 to about 1911, moderator of town meetings from 1865 to 1880, census enumerator in 1880, and notary public beginning in 1886. In 1870, he was a founder and first president of the Pocumtuck Valley Memorial Association, an office he held until 1915.

Sheldon served for one term in the General Court of Massachusetts (1867); as U.S. Marshal under General Francis A. Walker (1870); and for one term in the Massachusetts Senate (1872).

His wife Susan died in 1881. Six years later he married Jennie Maria Arms, daughter of George A. Arms of Greenfield. She was a prominent teacher of natural science in Boston. Jennie Sheldon was supportive of her husband's many works, the most extensive of which were a history of Northfield (with the Reverend J. H. Temple) and a history of Deerfield.

In the latter years of his life Sheldon spent summers in Deerfield, in the house which belonged to Colonel Joseph Stebbins, his grandfather, and winters in Boston. He died in Deerfield in 1916 at the age of ninety-eight.
