

GUIDE TO THE STARR FAMILY PAPERS

The first member of the Starr family to live in the Deerfield area was William (1757-1831) who relocated from Middletown, CT, to Greenfield, then to Deerfield in 1804. He operated a mill on the Deerfield River which was passed on to his son, Oliver. His other son, Caleb, was a sailor who eventually settled in Laona, IL, in 1855, not long after Deerfield's Dr. Stephen West Williams went there. The collection also includes some papers of author Eliza Allen Starr, and decorative bookbinder Ellen Gates Starr of Chicago.
