

Papers of the Franklin County Public Hospital School of Nursing

The first public hospital in Greenfield, Massachusetts, was constructed on High St. in 1910, and operated a training school for nurses. In 1927 a north wing and Nurses' Home were added to the building. A second expansion occurred in 1953, when a new wing was completed that brought the total capacity to 150 beds. The nurses training facility was transferred to Greenfield Community College in 1963. Gift of the Franklin County Public Hospital School of Nursing, 1998.

Container list:

BOX 1

Folder 1: Diplomas and graduation programs. Franklin County Public Hospital School of Nursing diploma, 1951; FCPHSN graduation programs: 1916, 1925, 1928-30, 1932, 1935, 1951, 1957, 1959, 1962; congratulations on capping card from Alumnae Assoc., n.d.; invitation to 1951 graduation. (15 items)

Folder 2: Booklets published by the Franklin County Health Assoc., Greenfield: Nature and the Doctor (n.d.); ow the Sanatorium Protects You (n.d.); Information for Patients... Franklin County Public Hospital (n.d.) (3 items)

Folder 3: Letters of Annie Barclay, 1945, 1948; copy of Anna Koch and Annie Barclay: Providing Health Care to Franklin County, 1900-1950, by John Kazar (1977) (3 items)

Folder 4: Franklin Country Public Hospital School of Nursing, Constitution and Bylaws, (n.d.); grading system regulations, 1949; flyer describing nursing program, 2 copies (n.d.); Rules for the Training School for Nurses (n.d.); Student Government- Rules for School of Nursing (c. 1936); Mass. League of Nursing Membership certificate, dated 1951 (7 items)

Folder 5: The 70 years of Franklin County Public Hospital School of Nursing (1965); 75th Annual Report Franklin County Public Hospital (1971); The Alumnae Assn. of Franklin County Public School of Nursing (1952, 1966); 50th anniversary Franklin County School of Nursing bookmark [1945]; clipping from Town Crier of 50th Reunion of Class of 1949 (6 items)

Folder 6: Boston City Hospital diploma, 1937; Boston City Hospital Nursing School Information and Instructions for Affiliating Students, 1940 (2 items)

Books loose in box: Home and Community Hygiene (1929); student notebook kept by Fay A. Peasley, class of 1935; First Aid Instructor's Manual (1945); Scrapbook of Memorials of the Franklin County Public Hospital School of Nursing Alumnae Association, 1897-1997 by Patricia Guilbault and Therese Hinkell.

