

"Records of the Directors of the Deerfield Free Library," 1893-1916.

1 vol. mss. 21 cm.

Record book of an organization that co-existed with, and for a time shared space with, the Village Library Association in South Deerfield. In these records the Free Library is also referred to as the South Deerfield Public Library. This organization was the precursor of today's Tilton Public Library.

Preceded in same volume by "So[uth] Deerfield Improvement Association. Secretary's Book," April 1889-Feb. 1890.
